Did you miss

This General Assembly fringe event was held on Zoom and open to all as we showcased some of the work of Children s and Youth work over the last year, explained the resolutions we brought to General Assembly, and shared some of our exciting news about the year to come.

The event was recorded and is now available on YouTube, with some of the sections also available as individual videos ð e.g. news of our first Children and Youth Friendly Church Scheme plaques being awarded and news from the Lundie award. https://youtu.be/jm9O7yABPSI

Following the success of our online training sessions on video editing, social media and sharing stories, we are back with our next offering: practical ideas for enhancing worship for all.

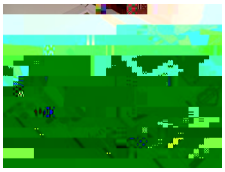
Thursdays 30 September, 14 October and 21 October 7.30-8.45pm.

We are delighted once again to be able to offer grants of up to Ã200 from the Carmichael Montgomerie Bursary. These grants will be open to all URC members who attend, to help put learning into action.

More information is now available on https://hybrid-church-workshops.eventbrite.co.uk where you can also book your free tickets.

Last year we produced an Advent Box for churches to send out to families. It was filled with activities and prayers, a story book Colours of Christmas and resources for churches to link to. Stocks ran out very quickly and many churches were disappointed.

We have decided to produce a similar box this year, on the theme Come and See which we hope will prove just as popular. Watch out for details on how you can pre-order your boxes, including details of an option to receive bulk materials as a flat-pack to assemble your-selves at reduced cost ð thus enabling you to include anything your church may decide to add to the box.



Visit the URC Shop from mid-September to pre-order your boxes and to find out more about what will be in this year s Advent Box.
